

STEPHANI CARTER, I.D.T., LEED® ACCREDITED PROFESSIONAL

Stephani is a LEED® Accredited Professional and a passionate Sustainable Building Materials Specialist. She is trained as an interior designer (NAIT alumni) and from working in the industry recognized a need for a new support system around transitioning the current market to a more sustainable one. In 2006 she started her own consulting firm, EcoAmmo. EcoAmmo offers a diverse set of key services geared toward making sustainability easy, understandable, accessible and fun! One of these services is called Green Alberta. It is an online database of evaluated sustainable building products. Stephani and her team work with local manufacturers to help them understand what it means to be 'green' and how to integrate sustainable practices into their processes.

Stephani was actively involved with creating the Alberta Chapter of the Canada Green Building Council in 2003 and remained on the board for six years. Stephani is a self proclaimed 'volunteer-aholic' and volunteers with many groups including the Clean Air Strategic Alliance where she sat on the Indoor Air Quality committee for 2.5 years. The IAQ team just recently published their report which is the first of its kind in Canada.
