

Dr. Brian R. Sinclair FRAIC AIA (Intl) is Professor of Architecture, and Dean Emeritus, in the University of Calgary's Faculty of Environmental Design. He has also served as Presidential Advisor on Design + Sustainability, a demanding and creative role unique in the landscape of higher education. Brian is President of sinclairstudio inc., a Canadian-based multi-disciplinary design and research corporation engaged in a broad array of interesting projects around the globe. Prior to his deanship, Sinclair was Chair of the nationally-ranked Architecture school at Ball State University. Brian holds postgraduate degrees in architecture and psychology. An educator and practitioner, Sinclair's expertise + engagement spans from science to art. Professional memberships include American Institute of Architects (AIA), the Union of Mongolian Architects (UMA), the Society of Nepalese Architects (SONA), and Fellowship in Royal Architectural Institute of Canada (RAIC). International boards include Architectural Research Centers Consortium (ARCC) and Toda Institute for Global Peace + Policy Research. In 2003 he was inducted into the prestigious Omicron Delta Kappa Leadership Society and in 2010 into the selective Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. Sinclair is recipient of numerous honors and awards. His doctoral degree (University of Missouri) focused on an innovative holistic design + planning framework to improve quality of life for some of world's poorest people. Scholarship includes professional practice, design methods, open building, environmental psychology, international development, sustainability, and the collision of science + spirit. His newest book (2009, CaGBC) is entitled "Campus Design + Planning: Context, Culture and the Pursuit of Sustainability".
